

The Consultation Process in the Public Health Agency

The PHA recognises the importance of appropriate consultation and in carrying out its equality duties consults in a timely, open and inclusive way and in accordance with the Equality Commission's Guiding principles.

The PHA works with representative groups and individuals of the Section 75 categories to obtain their views.

The wide range of views received are analysed by those carrying out the consultation, and changes, resulting from this analysis are reflected in the final document, published in due course in the 'Publications' section of this website.

Further information on the PHA's commitment to Equality can be found by clicking here

A list of current consultations within the Department of Health is available at <https://www.health-ni.gov.uk/consultations>

Print