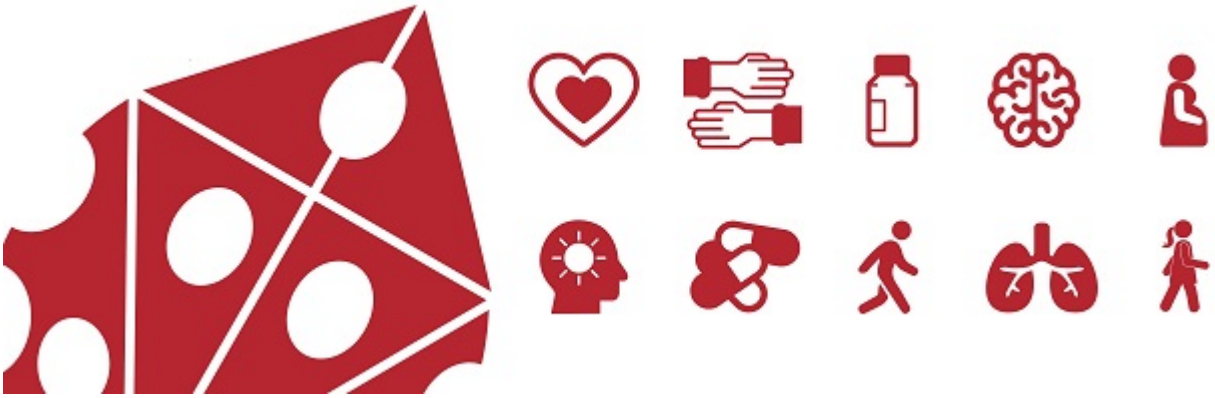
Celebrating our AHPs on Allied Health Professions Day

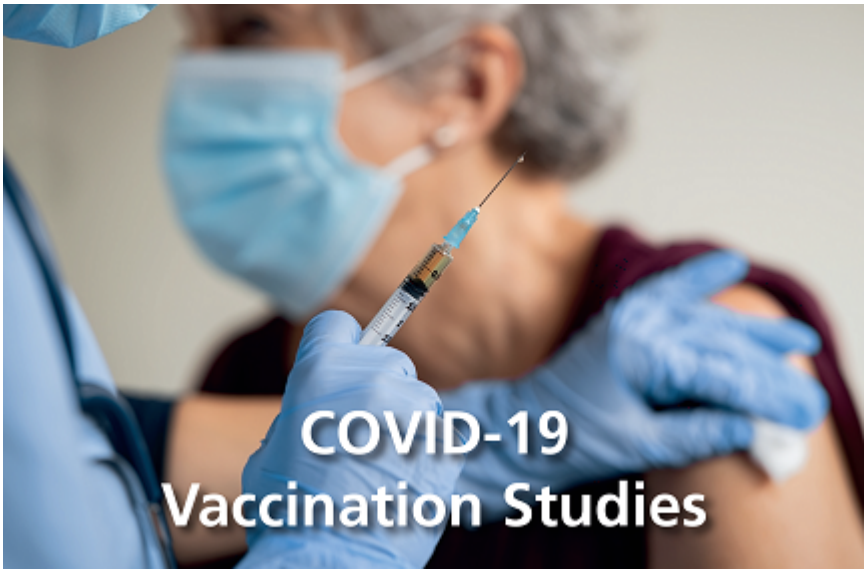
My role in tackling health inequalities: A framework for allied health professionals

Michelle Tennyson, Assistant Director of Allied Health Professions, Personal and Public Involvement and Patient Experience, Public Health Agency.



PHA led Cross-Border Research (CHITIN) and COVID-19

By Dr Rhonda Campbell, CHITIN Programme Manager, HSC Research & Development Division, PHA



NI Researchers lead the way on NI vaccine trials

By Dr Naomh Gallagher, Programme Manager, HSC Research & Development Division of the Public Health Agency

Digital technology and home-schooling during COVID-19

With a return to homeschooling we revisit our blog article Digital Technology and Home-schooling during COVID-19. By Claire Dorris, National Children's Bureau and Maur

Drinking during lockdown – what's the big deal?

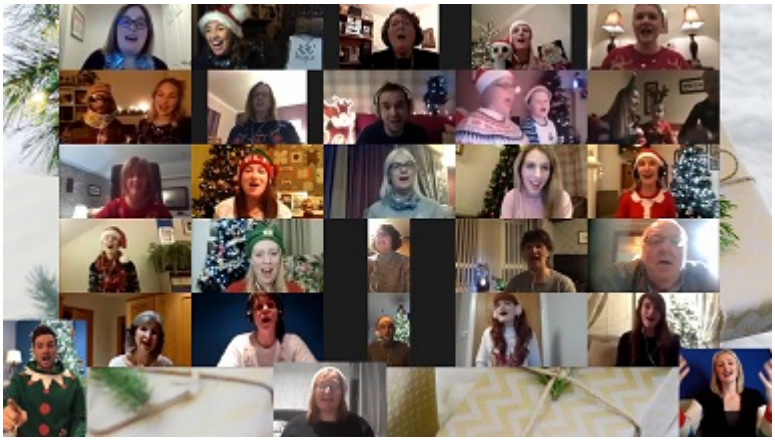
With January being a time when many examine their relationship with alcohol, we revisit our blog article Drinking during lockdown, what's the big deal?

NI Research Infrastructure contribution to the COVID-19 Pandemic

By Dr Janice Bailie, Assistant Director, Health and Social Care (HSC) Research & Development (R&D) Division of the Public Health Agency

Organisational Change and COVID-19

By Bernie Pearson, R&D Approvals Change Manager, HSC Research & Development Division



Allied Health Professionals choir brings Christmas cheer to Zoom

A group of Allied Health Professionals and friends from Northern Ireland and beyond have come together to share some Christmas cheer and mark the end of this exceptional year.

The Behaviour Change Group: supporting transmission prevention behaviour in Northern Ireland

Dr Emma Berry, Lecturer in Health Psychology, School of Psychology, Queen's University Belfast

Pagination

- Page 1
- Next page ››

View PDF