

Alcohol MOT part one

Is your drinking putting you at risk?

Most adults who live in Northern Ireland drink some alcohol. Many drink at a level that does not put their health at risk, and if you drink, you may think you are one of them. To find out for sure, use the alcohol unit guide to answer the three questions below.

| How many units of alcohol do you drink on a typical day when you are drinking?                                       | 1-2            | 3-4               | 5-6                 | 7-9                | 10+                   |            |
| How often have you had six or more units if female, or eight or more if male, on a single occasion in the last year? | Never          | Less than monthly | Monthly             | Weekly             | Daily or almost daily |            |

Your score

If you are a man and scored four or less, or if you are a woman and scored three or less, you are a low-risk drinker. Aim to keep your drinking at these low levels.

If you are a man and scored five or more, or if you are a woman and scored four or more, your drinking may be putting your health at risk. Please answer the questions overleaf to find out more.

Your total score

What does your total score mean?

0-7: Low risk – While there are no completely safe levels of alcohol, the amount you drink is low risk. What can I do? You could aim to keep your drinking at low risk levels.

8-15: Hazardous – Your drinking is putting you at increased risk of harm, including damage to your physical and mental health. What can I do? You could reduce your drinking to a healthier level – this may be as simple as having one less drink a day, or drinking on one less night a week. Alternatively, you could see your GP or a health professional and ask for advice and support.

16-19: Higher risk – Drinking at this level will result in damage to your physical and mental health. You are also at risk of being alcohol dependent. What can I do? You could cut down on your drinking or consider stopping, even for a while. Alternatively, you could see your GP or a health professional and ask for advice and support.

20+: Highest risk – Your drinking is seriously harming you and you are likely to be alcohol dependent. What can I do? You should see your GP and ask for advice and support, or ask to be referred to a specialist service.
