

Allied Health Professions (AHPs) are critical to the ongoing assessment, treatment and rehabilitation of patients throughout the illness episodes whether transient or long lasting. AHPs enable children and adults to make the most of their skills and abilities and to develop and maintain healthy lifestyles. They support people of all ages in their recovery, helping them to return to work and participate in sport or education.

To find out more about AHPs and who we are and what we do click here

Personal and Public Involvement (PPI) means actively engaging with those who use our services, carers and the public to discuss: their ideas, our plans; their experiences, our experiences; why services need to change; what people want from services; how to make the best use of resources; and how to listen to these views and therefore improve the quality and safety of services.

Michelle Tennyson is the Assistant Director with responsibility for AHPs, PPI and 10,000 More Voices.

Latest News

Seven in 10 people want to discuss palliative care if it could help them

New national standards launched across the UK to improve public involvement in research

RISE: supporting children's health, development and learning together

First awards for Personal and Public Involvement

Minister O'Neill addresses Personal and Public Involvement Conference

Latest publications

Regional nutrition guidance for care home residents with suspected or confirmed COVID-19

Eating, drinking and swallowing during COVID-19 - Advice for staff in care homes

Hard to swallow?

Regional Health and Social Care Personal and Public Involvement Forum: Annual Update Report 2018/19

Healthy child, healthy future: speech and language therapy for children

Print