

Early Years Intervention Conference
King's Hall, Belfast
May 31, 2011
9am-4.30pm

The conference aims to provide input from national and international experts in the field of early years who will contribute to a debate about how stakeholders in Northern Ireland can progress this key agenda.

Conference purpose

- To inform stakeholders of the science of early years /early brain development and the links between support in antenatal and early years and improved outcomes in health, education, social and emotional development;
- To highlight key local developments such as Family Nurse Partnerships;
- To consider the economic benefits across society based on successful early years approaches;
- To showcase emerging community and city approaches to early years interventions;
- To promote and agree follow up actions.

For further information see programme attached below.

Key speakers presentations are also attached below.

Print