

Alcohol Seminar - Is it time to set a minimum unit price for alcohol?

Mossley Mill, Newtownabbey

June 14 2011

9am-12.45pm

The Public Health Agency (PHA) is holding this event to raise awareness of the impact of alcohol related harm and to encourage people to respond to the joint departmental consultation (DHSSPS and DSD) on the introduction of a number of measures including minimum unit pricing to tackle problems associated with the availability of cheap alcohol in Northern Ireland.

The event is aimed at professionals who work within criminal justice, health and social care sectors, the community and voluntary sector, those working in the alcohol retail trade, councils and political representatives.

Please see the attached flyer for details.

Please complete the attached booking form by June 6 2001 and return to Carrie Crossan via email Carrie.Crossan@hscni.net or fax 028 9031 1711.

Print