

Launch of Social Exclusion and Ageing in Diverse Rural Ireland report, University of Ireland Galway.

This research funded by Centre for Ageing Research and Development in Ireland (CARDI) was supported by the PHA and examined key issues around exclusion faced by older people living in rural Ireland. The research examines a variety of settings including island inhabitants', isolated rural communities, near urban settlements. The report is designed to influence future policy and practice in terms of addressing older people's needs.

For further information contact Brendan Bonner in Gransha Park House 028 71860086.

Print