

The Five Nations Health Protection Conference is taking place on 1 and 2 May 2012 at the Europa Hotel, Belfast. The conference will address important public health issues that have arisen since the last meeting and provide fresh perspectives on established areas of disease prevention and control. Short papers on the themed sessions will also be presented by those actively working in Health Protection.

Further information is available at www.5nations.com and the call for papers and registration form can be downloaded below.
