

2012 Hilton Hotel, Templepatrick 9:30am - 4:30pm To celebrate its 65th anniversary, Relate NI is hosting a conference on “Relationships and Families - Hope for the Future”, to explore current counselling/systemic family trends and practice. This conference is aimed at all professionals working with couples and families, who wish to reflect on and develop their practice within their field of work. The conference will be chaired by Lynda Bryans and will feature presentations from keynote speakers including, John Burnham and Dr Mary Jenkins. The minister for the DHSS&PS, Mr Edwin Poots MLA, will open the conference.

The conference will also be offering a number of relevant workshops including
Responding to the Needs of LGBT Relationships – Are they really so different?
Counselling Children and Young People in Schools – Where do we go from here?
Addictions – What they are, how they happen and how to help
Measuring and Managing Outcomes
Supervision – The good, the bad and the ugly

For more information visit www.relateni.org

Cost and Booking

Tickets are available at a cost of £139

Organisational group bookings (4 or more) are available at a discount .

Please call 02890 260 884.

A limited number of Student Discount tickets are also available at £79.

Please call 028 9026 0884.

Exhibition opportunities are also available, for more information please call Lynn Davidson on 028 9026 0884

Print