

Friday, 01 April 2011

Research and development

Cochrane Collaboration Training Courses on Systematic Reviews

Background
The ongoing support of evidence-based medicine is dependent on the ability of those who are training to be able to identify, appraise and synthesise the evidence. The Cochrane Collaboration is the pre-eminent international organisation in the world for the production of evidence-based medicine. The Cochrane Collaboration is a not-for-profit organisation that is dedicated to the production of evidence-based medicine. The Cochrane Collaboration is a not-for-profit organisation that is dedicated to the production of evidence-based medicine.

Objectives
The objectives of the course are to provide a comprehensive overview of the principles and practice of systematic reviews. The course will cover the following topics: the role of systematic reviews in evidence-based medicine; the principles and practice of systematic reviews; the search for evidence; the appraisal of evidence; the synthesis of evidence; and the dissemination of evidence.

Methods
The course will be delivered through a combination of lecture, discussion, and practical exercises. The course will be delivered through a combination of lecture, discussion, and practical exercises. The course will be delivered through a combination of lecture, discussion, and practical exercises.

Results
The course will provide a comprehensive overview of the principles and practice of systematic reviews. The course will provide a comprehensive overview of the principles and practice of systematic reviews. The course will provide a comprehensive overview of the principles and practice of systematic reviews.

Conclusions
The course will provide a comprehensive overview of the principles and practice of systematic reviews. The course will provide a comprehensive overview of the principles and practice of systematic reviews. The course will provide a comprehensive overview of the principles and practice of systematic reviews.

Keywords
Systematic reviews, Evidence-based medicine, Cochrane Collaboration, Training courses, Systematic reviews, Evidence-based medicine, Cochrane Collaboration, Training courses, Systematic reviews, Evidence-based medicine, Cochrane Collaboration, Training courses.

Plain language summary
This course will be particularly useful for health care professionals and students who are interested in the production of evidence-based medicine. The course will provide a comprehensive overview of the principles and practice of systematic reviews. The course will provide a comprehensive overview of the principles and practice of systematic reviews.

Cochrane Training - Guidance Notes 2011

Guidance Notes for Training Courses on Conducting Systematic Reviews, 2011.

Details

Format

3 page A4

Target group

Wider Research Community

Downloads

Attachment

Size

Innov Cochrane Training Guide Notes 2011 04 0.pdf 206.19 KB

Print