

Friday, 01 April 2016

Health Protection

Information for patients and visitors on extended spectrum beta lactamase (ESBL) resistant bacteria and how to help prevent the spread of infection.

This leaflet is part of a suite of nine leaflets for patients and visitors to healthcare settings include information on healthcare associated infections, available here: Healthcare associated infections - Patient and visitor leaflets \(including accessible formats\) | HSC Public Health Agency \(hscni.net\)

Accessible formats

The below document is available as a pdf and in accessible formats. Accessible formats are alternatives to printed information, used by people who are blind or visually impaired. These accessible formats include HTML, audio and braille. For audio and HTML copies please click on the links below. For braille copies please contact Caroline McGeary on 0300 555 0114.

Details

Format

A4 tri-fold

Target group

Patients and visitors

Downloads

Attachment	Size
Extended spectrum beta lactamase (ESBL) bacteria MP3.zip	2.13 MB
Extended spectrum beta lactamase (ESBL) bacteria HTML.zip	2.22 KB
ESBL_Leaflet_04_16.pdf	125.53 KB

Print