An easy guide about a health test for women aged 50 and over

Breast screening: an easy guide about a health test for women aged 50 and over

This leaflet offers a guide to breast screening for people with a learning disability. It explains what breast cancer is, highlights the risks and benefits of breast screening, and describes the process of being screened. It also outlines how to check your breasts in between screening appointments and what to do if you find anything unusual.
